Grayling, And Gibraltar To Exchange Mayors

Mayors and village presidents of Michigan communities learned Monday where they will preside as honorary chief executives on Monday, May 20 in what has become one of the outstanding events of Michigan Week.

Exchange committees were paired at the annual drawing for Exchange of Mayors Day held in Lansing Monday. Presiding at the session was Mayor Anthony Balice of Ionia, chairman of the state Exchange of Mayors Committee.

Each year, about two months before Michigan Week, the names of nearly 500 cities and villages are placed in a large drum and drawn in pairs by the Governor as honorary chairman of Michigan Week and the Lt. Governor as Speaker of the House of Representatives as honorary co-chairmen.

In the drawing Monday Grayling was paired with Gibraltar. Gibraltar is a town of 613 population located in the Province of the Exchange chairman Mayor Balice and the Michigan Week general chairman K. T. Keller joined in urging municipal officials to start working with their county and community Michigan Week chairman without delay on plans for Monday May 20.

Each county Michigan Week committee is expected to promote the success of the Mayors Exchange throughout its county and to coordinate the Exchange planning of the several municipalities. The Exchange has become an outstanding part of the annual program and a great many communities have benefited materially through knowledge obtained by their officials in visiting other communities. The main purpose is to get Michigan towns better acquainted with one another.

Many cities and communities have gone all out in their program of welcome for the visiting mayor and his party with tours, parades, banquets and other civic events. Pairings made Monday were entirely by chance in the drawing. No effort was made to match cities of equal size or of close geographic location. In many instances the mayor or village president of a tiny village changes places with the chief executive of one of the state's largest cities.

Each year has witnessed a broadening of the exchange to include officials other than the mayor or village president and representatives of schools, clubs, etc.

P. T. A. Meeting Monday Eve., March 25th

Dear Parent:

On Monday evening, March 25th, at eight o'clock at the regular meeting of the P. T. A., the Board of Education of the Grayling Public Schools will discuss school district organization, financing, and answer questions you might have.

Grayling School District, because of increased enrollment and increasing costs, is faced with many problems. This year, we were forced to hire one extra teacher to take care of a second Fourth Grade. Next year we will have two Fifth Grades and the need for another new teacher. This year we have 85 children in the Kindergarten and expect about 80 next year. The Kindergarten should be divided into three sections instead of two.

So much for increased enrollment and increasing costs, now for decreasing income.

1. We started the year with a deficit of $5,249.77.

2. We were forced to get an advance on our State Aid of $6,500 to replace a 9-year-old bus with a new one, actual cost, $6,588.19.

3. Last year the state promised us $180 per membership child. Now they do not know whether they will be able to pay it or not.

4. The Governor says we should have $225 per membership child next year. The Michigan Education Association and the Michigan Association of School Boards say we need at least $210 per membership child. What will the Legislature do?

5. Five years ago the people voted an extra 2 mills for school operation. That 2 mills will run out this June and we will be forced to ask the people at the annual meeting in July for 5 mills. This would increase your taxes $3.00 per $1,000 valuation.

We know that you as a parent want your children to have the best possible education and the Board of Education wants to provide it but they can only do as much as the money they receive will permit.

Whether you are a P. T. A. member or not, please come to the meeting next Monday. We will have next year's budget for you. Study it very carefully and then be sure to vote at the annual election on July 8th.

Hans Peterson, District Fish Supervisor, talked on ideas for assisting the Fish Division. Kiwanis Club Notes

John Bell, project engineer for the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers at the ERDL project at the Grayling Army Air Base and the Rayco Air Base in the upper peninsula was the speaker at Monday night's meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Grayling held at Shoppings Inn.

He was introduced by George Crum of Virginia who is also attached to the ERDL project at the Grayling base. Crum is a Kiwanis member in Virginia and program chairman of his club. He was introduced to the Grayling club by vice-president J. Lorne Douglas.

Mr. Bell told the club members how the Corps of Engineers was composed and the work of the engineering, research and development section. He explained the work that the section had been busy with—at the Grayling base the past five winters. The quick removal of snow and ice from runways was their project given to them by the Corps at the request of the Air Force. Mr. Bell said that this was probably the last year of experimental work at Grayling but that the Air Force would continue part of the work at Grayling. His talk was most informative and interesting.

Defeat Charlevoix and Gaylord To Pick Up First Regional Trophy

FACE CRYSTAL FALLS IN THE STATE QUARTER FINALS AT TRAVERSE CITY

The Grayling High Vikings won their second trophy in the State High School basketball tourney and the right to move into the State Quarter Finals this Wednesday night by defeating the Gaylord Blue Devils at Petoskey Saturday. Grayling will meet Crystal Falls, Upper Peninsula champions and last year's State Class C champions at the Traverse City St. Francis auditorium, this Wednesday night.

Grayling came through the Regional tourney in almost the same way that they won the District. They met the two best teams and in both cases fought back to victory after trailing both Charlevoix and Gaylord.

Arrest Two In Legion Entry

Two Grayling men were arrested by City of Grayling police about 9:30 last Thursday morning and charged with breaking and entering the Grayling Legion Post 106 building through a back door about 4 a. m. that same morning.

Charles L. Polinski, 21, of Star Route and Raymond L. Denno, 20, of Grayling were the men arrested. They entered guilty pleas when they appeared before Justice of the Peace Van Smith the next day. Polinski was ordered to make restitution of $21.63 and given a 30 day jail sentence. He faces a further 60 day jail sentence if the restitution and costs are not paid. At the end of his jail stay, he will be turned over to the Wayne County officers as a parole violator. Denno was also ordered to make restitution in the amount of $21.63, fined $50 and costs and placed on probation for one year.

Charles H. Nielson, Sr. PASSES AT HASTINGS

Carl Henry Nielson, Sr., 63, succumbed at Pennock hospital in Hastings on March 16, 1957, following an operation for a ruptured stomach ulcer, the preceding Tuesday. Mr. Nielson was taken ill at Hastings while on a trip for the Conservation Department.

Mr. Nielson was born to Wilhelm and Elise Nielson on October 29, 1893, in Denmark. The family moved to Grayling where Mr. Nielson attended school. For thirty years he has worked for the Fisheries Division of the Michigan Department of Conservation.

Mr. Nielson was married July 17, 1922, to the former Arvelly Tetli, who passed on in 1952. Surviving are three sons, Carl H., Bruce J. and Terry L. Nielson, all of Grayling, five grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. Anna Hedlund of Longview, Wash., and Mrs. Elma Hemmington of Sedro Woolley, Wash., and two brothers, William of Longview Wash., and Otto of Lansing, Mich.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, March 19th, at 2 p. m. at the Grayling Evangelical Lutheran church, with the Rev. Harold Knudsen officiating. Mrs. Floyd San Cartier provided organ music. Interment was in Elmwood Cemetery, with Fred Bishaw, Wesley LaGrow, Barney Engel, Arnold Schlabe, Adolph Peterson and A. J. Nelson acting as pallbearers.

Pulling one of the most remarkable comebacks of cage action seen this year, the Grayling Vikings soundly whipped Charlevoix 64 to 45 last Thursday in the C regionals at Petoskey after trailing 16 to 6 at the quarter and 30 to 21 at the half.

But the nine point deficit meant nothing to coach Bruce Smith and his Vikings who came up after the intermission breather a new team. They held the Raydors to a five point output in the third period to go ahead 40 to 35 and then, with the help of several replacements, punched through 24 points in the last eight minutes to round out the 64-45 total and eliminate the Charlevoix quintet from further tournament action.

Grayling made it three straight over the Raydors who entered the game as one of the hottest quintets in the tourney, having bumped off favored Boyne City in the district last week. And it looked like Charlevoix still held their polish in the first 16 minutes of the game but they blew up under pressure when the Vikings finally took the lead at the six minute mark of the third stanza.

New engineers design modern concrete roads to save lives and money

Highway engineers design these four important features into the main roads they are building today to give highway users the utmost in safety, comfort and service.

Controlled access provides safe entry or exit from the road at periodic intervals while allowing continuous speed for through traffic.

No grade crossings and no stop lights! On modern highways all traffic on intersecting roads goes over or under the highway.

Wide median strips separate opposing streams of traffic. Result: no hindering lights, no danger of a head-on collision.

Wide traffic lanes allow you more room. And maximum safety results when the lanes are paved with concrete. Concrete is skid-resistant, wet or dry. Its light color provides the best night visibility. Concrete lasts longer, costs less to maintain, gives low-annual-cost service.

The Home Extension Club surprised Mrs. Arthur Howe by calling at her home on Tuesday night to hold their regular meeting, as she has been unable to attend all winter due to a broken ankle. After the business meeting, a lunch which was furnished by various members was enjoyed by all, and Emma was happy to be in attendance at a club meeting after such a long absence. The club meets next on Mar. 26th at the home of Mrs. Stanley Hummel.

The Town Hall was festive with green streamers on Saturday night for the St. Patrick's dance which was well attended. Everyone reported a grand time. The lunch table had a cake with green shamrock decorations to match the shamrock napkins, and lots of green was worn by the merry crowd as they enjoyed the music by the "Two Notes". Another dance has been planned for April 13th.

ly - Coddling No Answer...

As everyone who reads or listens to news accounts of juvenile crime has become a problem of grim dimensions in this country.

A leading authority, J. Edgar Hoover, of the FBI, devoted a signed editorial to it in a recent issue of organization's law enforcement bulletin. He says, "The happenings in juvenile crime shatter the illusion of soft-hearted molly-coddling is the answer to the problem." And he asks, "Are we to stand idly by while our streets and highways are filled with the fierce young hoodlums—too often and too long—roam the streets and highways of juvenile delinquency? If we do, America might well witness a resurgence of the brutal criminality and mobsterism of a bygone era."

Mr. Hoover also demolishes the idea, held by some, that there isn't any more juvenile crime than there used to be—that it's just better publicized. In the past four years, the population of 10-17 year olds has risen 10 per cent. In the same time, arrests of individuals in that age bracket have increased at twice the rate.

Finally, Mr. Hoover makes a strong case against the common custom of not publishing the names of juvenile criminals. As he puts it, "Publicizing the names of juvenile criminals is a crime in itself, release of past records to appropriate law enforcement officials and finger-pointing for future identification are all necessary procedures in the war on the flagrant violator, regardless of age."

We have tried the soft-hearted approach, and it has failed. In the name of self-preservation, it is time to toughen up.

GRANGE NOTES
State Grange Master William J. Brake of Lansing visited the Crawford Grange at their open house Monday, March 18. Fifty patrons and guests enjoyed the program prepared by Lecturer Cynthia Knecht. Highlight of the evening besides the very fine address by Mr. Brake, was the mortgage burning ceremony.

Present were five past masters, Charles Corwin, and Cynthia Knecht, Lacey Stephan and Alvin Moore. The only living past master and charter member, Hugo Schreiber, was unable to attend. All present enjoyed a bit of dancing, with Marie Gardner and Jack LaBarge providing the music. The evening was concluded with a very nice potluck supper.

Senator Potter reports
... the latest news from Washington of special interest to Michigan

FARM BOSS Ezra Benson bent an ear in our direction last week to hear Michigan's side of the wheat story. Four Republican Congressmen from our State accompanied me to the Secretary's office to inform him of our strong objections to proposed changes in wheat acreage. Specifically, we're against reducing the minimum moisture requirement for tough wheat and for any lowering of limits on other wheats. The Secretary's response was encouraging and we hope before long we'll receive word that the two proposed changes have been killed.

Incidentally, Secretary Benson favors my bill to liberalize wheat allotments and recommends that the enacted into law. This proposal would eliminate a wheat farmer to grow all the wheat he pleased, regardless of quota, providing he used the wheat for feed or seed on his own farm.

JAMPAKED judicial calendars and overworked judges are slowing down the operation of U. S. courts. If you are a party to a federal case, your problem will ooze through a District or an Appeals Court like molasses in January, consuming about ten months before decision or perhaps more. Last year 2,028 cases backed up in the Appeals Courts and 63,526 in the District Courts. New cases flood in as fast as old ones are settled.

But relief is in sight and prospects for speeding the wheels of justice are excellent. It will take legislation, of course. Current bills, designed to unclog the courts, would create 37 new judgeships, relieve judges of administrative duties at age 70, and reduce the number of judges on the full load. With the backing of President Eisenhower and the Chairman of the House and Senate Judiciary Committees, passage is expected this year. Michigan's Eastern District would acquire a new judgeship.

JUST SUPPOSE you were transferred to another city and had to sell your home. The house for which you'd paid $10,000 might bring you $15,000 on today's market. Under present law that's $5,000 profit on which you must pay a capital gains tax, unless you buy another house within a year or build a new one within 18 months. Many people today

No Trucks — No Heat...

THE COLD WINDS blow and the snow-fly and you call on your furnace to keep you cozy and warm, remember — you burn coal, trucks keep your bin full — if an oil burner, trucks see that your fuel oil never empty.

It would be a long, cold winter without mo-look at it, you just couldn't live as you do without trucks, using Michigan's fine highway to serve you night and day, to keep you and family fed, clothed, warm and comfortable.

You've got it, a truck brought it!

the future by a rapidly-expanding America, draws attention to Crawford County and its needs.
At the present time, with living standards at a high level, the rate of consumption is greater than ever.
Food is being absorbed by Crawford County residents at the estimated rate of 1,510 tons a year.
For each increment in the population an additional 0.37 ton is needed. This is far above a mere subsistence diet. But people want more money now and they want more and better food.
As for water, how much is required in Crawford County? Just for drinking, some 820,000 gallons a year. For bathing, washing, and other uses, the demand is unlimited. The other local water needs many times as large, are for industrial, laundering and other purposes.
The amount of energy consumed locally is higher than ever before, another reflection of progress. The total, whether derived from electricity, coal, gas, oil or auto fuel, is equivalent to the energy in 33,000 tons of coal. The estimated per capita need is 8 tons of coal energy a year.
The basic figures come from findings made at the California Institute of Technology and elsewhere, in studies to determine whether we can provide the material needs of the vast populations envisioned for the future.
The necessities mentioned are taken for granted. But life, as it is being lived today, also requires a variety of other things. To satisfy the growing demand for autos, buildings, roads, electrical gadgets and the like entails enormous amounts of lumber, steel, copper and thousands of other substances.
How high will the demand go?
What can we do when the rich metallic ores, for example, are used up?
The answer given is that an improved technology must be developed to meet the heavy demands of the future. The answer needs from the natural substances around us such as air, sea water, rock and sunlight.
Radioactive material, source of nuclear energy, and minerals may be obtained from ordinary rock, water from sea water distillation using nuclear energy, and food from a better utilization of existing plant life.

Homes For Wildlife

"Homes for Wildlife" is the theme of National Wildlife Week, March 17-23, and do-it-yourself sportsmen in Michigan can help by constructing wood duck nesting boxes. Wood duck populations are low and a properly constructed, predator-proof nest box is a big help to these birds.

Lansing — The 1957 observance of National Wildlife Week, set for March 17-23, centers around a "homes for wildlife" theme.
A nationwide educational and publicity campaign during the week is conducted to stress the habitat needs of wild animals and birds.
Sportsmen's clubs, youth groups and others play an important part in Wildlife Week through conservation projects designed to provide homes for wildlife around towns and cities, on farms and woodlands, and in wetland areas.
Field trips during the week-long observance also provide an opportunity to plan projects which will be carried out during the year.
Some of the conservation projects getting under way include construction and installation of wood duck boxes, bird houses and squirrel nesting boxes. Other activities may include assembling brush piles on dry land for bird and animal shelters, or in inland lakes to provide cover for fish.

The objective of Wildlife Week, according to Ernest Swift, executive director of the National Wildlife Federation, is "to get more people thinking about conservation problems and doing something about them."
The Federation and affiliated state groups have sponsored Wildlife Week annually since 1938, when the first such observance was proclaimed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt.
Helpful background information, including suggestions for fish and animal habitat projects, can be obtained from the National Wildlife Federation, 232 Carroll Street N. W., Washington 12, D. C., or from the chairman for Wildlife Week in Michigan: Howard Shelley, Box 517, Waterford, Mich.

Mich. Farmer Has Insecure Feeling In Face Of State's Milk Problem

A FEELING OF INSECURITY is evident among many Michigan farmers. On the surface they face a single problem—how to maintain prices for raw milk. Underneath they face a more serious issue: What to do with marginal producers. This is the group now marketing enough milk to create the oversupply and force prices down.

There seems no practical solution to this knotty question; so many who believe the "part time farmer" to be the real issue are pretending it doesn't exist. Instead, varied attacks are being made against the "surplus problem" of which solve little and increase dissension.

Most dairymen (some 16,500) belong to the Michigan Milk Producers Association. The group recently accepted price cuts for raw milk in some areas of the state. This was to help dairymen from Ohio and Wisconsin who found it profitable to ship cheap milk into Michigan.

Last year, when farmers were pinched to produce milk profitably at existing prices, a minority splintered off to form the Fair Share Bargaining Association. In turn, this group was hit with dissension and a severe rebel organization, the Dairy Farmers Co-Operative of Michigan, came into existence.

Federal milk minimums are not being sought in several parts of the state to maintain raw milk prices.

Two milk marketing bills have been introduced in the Michigan legislature with the same goal: Keep milk prices high enough to insure a steady profit for Michigan producers.

Experts think this may maintain prices temporarily, but will do little to cure the real trouble. Excess milk will continue to be produced.

The "part time" farmer creates part of the milk surplus problem. These people earn a steady living by other means and keep a few cows for extra earnings. When milk prices are high this group is attracted into the milk market. The extra milk they produce forces the price down.

A recent survey made by MMFA showed that 44 per cent of its members (some 1,400) work off the farm 100 days or more each year. About 11 per cent of the MMFA members earn more from off-farm work than from the farm.

The middle sized milk producer is caught in a squeeze. The large dairyman operates efficiently. He has a mechanized farm which reduces cost. Since the small milk producer relies on other sources for income, he can market milk when prices are good—and stop when the price makes it unprofitable.

The middle sized milk producer has neither of these advantages. His cost per unit is higher than that of the large dairyman. He can not profitably "get out" when prices are low.

The middle sized producer has two choices. Either grow larger and operate more efficiently or reduce his dairy holdings and rely on other crops or off-farm work to provide an income.

 Dear Sirs:
 Your report of Viking tournament victories was amusing. As far as I am concerned, the Vikings had nothing spectacular.
 The "only" reason for their wins were: HOME FLOOR and GLASS BACKBOARDS.
 Plus some one sided foul calling.

 P. S. It will be interesting to see how far they get away from home.
 Editor's Note — We wonder if Mr. Cherven found the story on the tournament in the issue of March 7th amusing when we called the turn on the game stating, "The game should be a ding-dong affair... the Vikings should come up with a victory on a close score."

The three action photos in the columns to the left were taken by Fred Lovelace of the Petoskey News-Review and lent to the Avalanche through the courtesy of the Petoskey daily.

In the top photo is—Ball Ballot—Grayling's Bob Strong (24) goes up with Norm Helms (3) and Phil Timmer (16) of Charlevoix on a rebound and all three came down with the ball. Charlevoix controlled the board in the first half but made way for Grayling in the final quarters and were snowed under 64 to 45 after holding a 30-21 intermission lead. In the second photo—What's Up Doc?—All eyes are focused at the ceiling in the Grayling-Charlevoix game. Actually, the above players are awaiting a rebound, out of the reach of the camera eye but for Charlevoix it could well have been the roof tumbling in. They led most of the game but finally succumbed by a 19 point margin. Norm Helms (3) is on the left with Grayling's Don Roberts in the center and Rayder Bob Mol (13) at right. Three other unidentified Vikings are in the background.

In the bottom photo—No Room To Shoot—Kona Balch (6) of Charlevoix went in for a layup shot but Bob Strong (24) put his 6'-5 1/2" to good advantage in blocking the shot. Roberts (23) and Martin (19) of Grayling await the rebound in the background.

Vikings

to 45 and 49 to 43.

Dave Lowe was held to four points in the first half but connected on 10 in the last 16 minutes including eight out of nine free throws to lead Grayling with 14 points. With him was Bob Strong with 14. Norm Helms paced the Rayders with 12.

Charlevoix opened the action with a 6-1 lead and ran the count to 14-2 and 16 to 4 before Grayling ended the period with a pair of free throws to trail 16-8. The Rayders continued their bombardment, hitting on long shots from the corners and had a 23 to 7 edge on Grayling before the Vikings started picking up speed. Center Bob Strong found the range under the bucket for four field goals and six out of eight free throws to turn in 14 of Grayling's 15 second period points to whittle one point off Charlevoix's lead at halftime, 30 to 21.

But then the roof fell in for the Rayders. Tony Doremire and Bill Martin hit on three buckets each with Dave Lowe and Don Roberts helping out in the attack and Grayling knotted the score at 35-35 with six minutes gone in the third. Roberts dunked in a free throw to make it 36-35 and that was the last time Charlevoix saw the lead.

Ahead 40 to 35 at the end of the period, Grayling filled the air with basketballs in the final action, netting them 24 points while the Rayders fell apart on defense. At 2:45 Charlevoix had trailed by only three points at 44-41 but from that point on it was all Grayling. Charlevoix, under pressure, committed seven personals which Grayling converted into 10 points but the calm Vikings rolled on with only one foul called against them and for all practical purposes, the game was over long before the final buzzer.

Girl Scout News

A special meeting was called for the discussion of the party. We did not decide a date because of tournaments.

We talked about selling candy and nuts but neither was decided. We also talked about having a candy sale in school but it wasn't carried. We also discussed a canoe trip for this summer.

Meeting was closed at 8:30 p. m. Reporters, Sharon Blaine, Arlene Smith.

The intermediate Girl Scouts had a Bake Sale Saturday, March 16, at Burn's Hardware. The girls alternated, two every hour, and the sale was very successful. We would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Burns for the use of their store for the sale.

Julia Carlson, Scout Scribe.
